

Nikki Olyai

President of Innovision Technologies, Inc.

Nikki Olyai

Ms. Nikki Olyai is the President of Innovision Technologies, Inc., an advanced sciences, engineering, and information technology company, with a focus on strategic leadership and technical performance, leading edge technologies, engineering best practices and innovative solutions. Ms. Olyai and her company are dedicated to providing the highest level of quality, on-time delivery, competitive cost structure, technological foresight, and continuous and proactive support.

Ms. Olyai received a Bachelor of Science Degree and a Master of Science Degree in Computer Science from Oregon State University. She has also benefited from executive educational programs at The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania; MIT's Sloan School of Management, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and the Kellogg School of Management, Northwestern University. Ms. Olyai's career specializations include advanced engineering and information technology, technical leadership, strategic planning, process re-engineering, risk management, and quality assurance.

Ms. Olyai has received a number of national awards from business organizations, local and U.S. Federal Government agencies, non-profit organizations, and educational institutions, based on her strategic, technical performance, and her contributions to the community and our nation.

Awards and Recognitions:

- 2007 – Olyai received the “Fifty Influential Entrepreneurs in Business Award,” a national recognition, from the Minority Enterprise Executive Council.
- 2007 – Olyai was named one of the “100 WBEs Impacting Supplier Diversity 2007,” by WE Women's Enterprise USA magazine.
- 2006 – Olyai was featured in “The Woman's Advantage: 20 Women Entrepreneurs Show You What It Takes to Grow Your Business,” by Mary Cantando.
- 2004 – Olyai was nationally recognized for “outstanding accomplishments in growing the business and giving back to the community.” She was one of six (6) CEOs to receive the Enterprising Women of the Year Award presented by Enterprising Women Magazine.
- 2003 – Olyai was featured in “Nine Lives: Stories of Women Business Owners Landing on Their Feet,” by Mary Cantando and Laurie Zuckerman.

Niki Olyai

- 2003 – Innovision Technologies was one of 17 companies nationally honored by Vice President Richard D. Cheney, on behalf of President George W. Bush, and the U.S. Small Business Administration with the Outstanding Women Entrepreneur Award.
- 2002 – Innovision Technologies was the recipient of the U.S. Small Business Administration Administrator’s Award For Excellence. Nationally recognized for outstanding contributions and service, which establishes Innovision Technologies as one of the top U.S. small businesses.
- 2001 - Innovision Technologies was recognized for the Formal SEI-CMM assessment of the U.S. Army Tank Automotive Command’s (TACOM) Next Generation Software Technology Area, which was assessed at Software Engineering Institute (SEI) Capability Maturity Model (CMM) Level 3.
- 2001 – Innovision Technologies was designated by the U.S. Secretary of Commerce, to “contribute leadership and business experience supporting the Nation’s Joint Industry and Government Export Expansion Effort.”
- 2001 – Olyai was recognized by a Congressional Committee for “Outstanding Leadership and Vision” and received a Medal of Honor.
- 2000 – Olyai was recognized by a Congressional Committee for “Outstanding Leadership and Commitment to Our Great Nation,” and received an honorary U.S. Flag.
- 2000 – Innovision Technologies was one of 11 companies honored in the Salute to Women’s Business Enterprises: The Enterprising Economy Gala in Washington, D.C. The award was provided for the “demonstration of commitment, expertise, and professionalism necessary to perform consistently and successfully,” and was sponsored by the Women’s Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC).
- 1999 – Innovision Technologies was ranked #195 on the Inc. 500 List of America’s Fastest Growing Privately Held Companies. The Inc. 500 List is an elite group of leading growth companies providing significant contributions to the U.S. economy.

Nikki Olyai
28175 Haggerty Road
Novi, MI 48377
248-987-6990